7 Candidates Vie For 3 Places On L-W Board

Two incumbents and five new candidates are seeking three vacancies on the Lincoln-Way Board of Education. The regular school election will be held Saturday, April 13.

Lorin Schleeter of Manhattan and Elias A. Brown of Mokena are seeking re-election while Wendall Morrison, Frankfort, Dr. George Morgan, New Lenox, David McClure, Manhattan, Harold A. Miller, New Lenox, and Robert H. Fuley, Mokena complete the seven man slate. The three to be elected will each serve a regular three year term.

President A. H. Krusemark of Frankfort is not a candidate for re-election. He was first elected when the district was organized in 1951 and was selected each year by the board members to serve as their chairman.

During this period Mr. Krusemark has provided the leadership for the rapid growth and expansion of the school along with its strong academic program. The school's enrollment has increased 300% during this period and the building has received three new additions with the fourth now being started. Mr. Krusemark has always taken an active part in the school's major activities, being involved both as a parent and as the chairman of the board. Lorin Schleeter of Manhattan was first elected in 1955 to fill the vacancy caused by George Bovee's resignation; consequently, he has been re-elected for two full terms. During this period he has served as the president of the Lincoln-Way Parent-Teacher Group, and had three of his children graduate from the school.

The second incumbent, Elias A. Brown of Mokena, is completing his first term on the board. He was first elected in 1960 and is completing his first year as board secretary. Mr. Brown is associated with the Welsh Lumber Company in Mokena.

Wendell Morrison from Frankfort is a partner in the B & M Lumber Co. in Frankfort. He presently has two children enrolled at Lincoln-Way.

Dr. George R. Morgan, a dentist in Frankfort, resides in New Lenox.

David McClure resides on a farm in the Manhattan community.

Harold A. Miller, a New Lenox resident and on the Joliet Township High School and Junior College staff.

Robert H. Fuley resides just south of Mokena and is employed at the Ford-Mercury plant in Chicago Heights.

The regular polling places for all school elections will be used and the polls will be open from noon to 7:00 p.m.

Absentee ballots can be obtained in the high school office during the regular hours. Application by mail must be completed five days before the election while those secured in person shall be completed three days in advance.

Several questions are frequently asked about any legal restrictions or residence for the members of the school board. The only requirement within a community high school district is that the candidate shall be a legal resident. Altho the local board members and various citizen committees have previously followed a gentlemen's agreement procedure with Manhattan, New Lenox having two members each and three from Frankfort township.

Death Takes G.H. Stegman

George H. Stegman, 59, a resident of the New Lenox area for the past 55 years, died Friday, March 29, at St. Joseph hospital in Joliet where he had been a patient less than two weeks.

He resided at 123 Haines avenue and was employed as a toolmaker by the Electromotive Corp. at La Grange. A native of Chicago Mr. Stegman had been a resident of the area since 1911.

Besides his wife, the former Elsa Werner, Mr. Stegman is survived by a son, Ralph of Marley; one brother, James Brown, of Chicago, three grandchildren, five nieces and one nephew.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon, April 1, at the Baskerville chapel, Lincoln highway and Roberts st., with the Rev. Alfred H. Hunter, pastor of the New Lenox Methodist church officiating. Interment was in Maplewood cemetery.

Legion Seeks Funds To Aid Fire Victims

The Frankfort American Legion and its Auxiliary are sponsoring a cash donation drive for the Frank Folisi family, who lost most of their belongings in a fire at their home last Sunday afternoon. Since Mr. and Mrs. Folisi are both officers of the organization, the Legion itself will start the fund rolling with its own donation.

Any person or organization wishing to give, may bring or send their donation to the Frankfort State Bank, Frankfort, Illinois, where a fund has been set up.

HAPPY NEWS FOR HOMEOWNERS

New better aluminum siding carries 30-years guarantee yet costs less than ever!

Hi Neighbor! I'm Ray Shank, remodeling consultant at I.N.R. Beatty Lumber Company. I've been in the building and remodeling business for years and I've seen many types of aluminum and other siding products ... but here's one I'm really excited about and I know you will be too. If you're interested in making your home more beautiful and comfortable ... while cutting down on the expense, too, you'll want to see Alaco Premium 30 siding for yourself.

This remarkable siding is surfaced with newly developed DuPont "Tedlar", a thick, tough baked-on guardian coat (not a paint) that's 60% thicker than the usual enamel finish you find on most aluminum sidings. Tedlar makes this Premium 30 siding exceptionally easy to clean ... just turn on your garden hose. It won't scratch or mar ... chalk or streak. Many homeowners have saved up to 25% on fuel costs and enjoyed a warmer home in winter, a cooler home in summer.

Best of all, despite all of these benefits, this new siding costs less than any other aluminum siding we've ever offered and it's guaranteed in writing for not 10, not 20 ... but 30 years!

If you're interested in a free estimate on Premium 30 Aluminum siding for your home, just give me a call and I'll bring out a sample for you to inspect as well as showing you photos of other homes that have been made more beautiful and comfortable ... AND VALUABLE with this new siding. Call NE 6-2567 and ask for me. Thanks for listening.

P.S. Beatty's have been in the building business for more than 65 years, your guarantee that you'll be completely satisfied with our work.

Miss Out On Fire Alarm

A policeman and a fireman started to answer a fire alarm at Mokena last Friday afternoon but neither made it. They were at other fires that day but not that particular one involving grass and brush out Francis road.

Police Officer Bert Gibson, noting that the alarm came in from west of Wolf road set sail for the intersection of Wolf and Front St. to keep it open for the fire rig.

Wayne Ryder, who operates a gas station at Wolf and Front piloted his truck into Front st. Ryder is a member of the Mokena volunteer fire department and responds to all alarms. He put his warning light on and steamed out into the street just as Bigson came by. It was a dead heat. Neither driver nor the truck suffered injury or damage but the squad car was badly wrinkled in the left rear section. The pleats were stretched out of the squad car and it continued in service. Witnesses said the squad car flasher light was not on.

SOCIAL SECURITY
The Joliet Social Security Office at 225 North Chicago street has a display in its window that is attracting a lot of attention. It shows what a person needs when he applies for social security benefits.

People worry about what they will need when they apply for social security. Many of them are positive that they must have nothing less than a birth certificate to prove their age. This is not so.

prize awarded at the dance. Particulars of this may be obtained from any of the officers or board of directors.

Supt. Wrath of the Arbury Hills School, called a meeting of representatives of all the organizations and other representatives of the rural area.

The purpose of this meeting was to present to these selected persons the need for an increase in the educational tax levy for Summit Hills School District Number 161. The present tax levy is 96 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. The requested increase is for 21 cents. This would bring the rate to $1.17 per $100.

Mr. Wrath pointed out that, altho the assessed valuation of the school district has increased, this increase is more than offset by the increase in the number of students. In addition to this fact, the new section of the school will be ready for occupancy in September, thereby necessitating the hiring of two new teachers for the 1963-64 school year.

Additional classrooms also mean additional educational equipment and supplies, and additional janitorial expenses.

The voting on this tax increase will coincide with the election of the new school board members. The date will be Saturday, April 13, between 12 noon and seven p.m. The voting will take place at the school.

Mr. Wrath also reminded the group that absentee ballots could be obtained at the school office for those who would be incapable of attending the voting on April 13. The ballots will be available up to three days before the election.

Government By Threat

Government be edict is not just something to read about. It can happen here. In fact it has happened here. As yet no armed marshals or federal troops have been called in but that also could happen if threats fail to whip real estate salesmen and brokers into line to bring about integration in housing developments.

Last week John G. Gleason, Jr., held a press conference at the Chicago Conrad Hilton hotel. Mr. Gleason is administrator of veterans affairs and also a member of President Kennedy's committee on equal opportunity in housing.

He stated that 60 approved management brokers for the sale and rental of Veterans' Administration property reclaimed under GI mortgage foreclosures in Cook county, and about three times as many sales brokers must sign certificates pledging they will not discriminate among prospects because of race.

Those who do not sign such a pledge, Gleason is quoted as saying, will be barred from participation in the sales program of the Veterans Administration.

The threat is based on an edict issued by President Kennedy in the form of Executive Order 11063 on Nov. 20, 1962, requiring racial integration in all housing build thru federal funds for federally supported financing.

Congress has repeatedly refused to pass any law requiring racial integration in such housing. Despite this fact the President has decreed there must be integration and Mr. Gleason came to Chicago to carry out the order.

Gleason was quoted as saying: "We are not trying to tell them (the real estate men) how to run their business."

But he made it plain that if they wanted to do business that involved property in which federal funds are used they had better do it the way the government demands or else.

The reason for Gleason's appearance in the area was the complaint of a Negro couple against a Markham real estate firm. The couple claimed the realty firm denied them an opportunity to submit an offer on a VA home. The firm denied this, declaring that the couple was not sincerely interested in the purchase of a home.

For Gleason to threaten real estate brokers with a Presidential directive that is not based on any law is going too far. Under the federal Constitution the president cannot make laws, nor can the federal courts, including the United States supreme court, make laws and the same is true of governors and state courts.

Under the constitutions of the United States and the states themselves it is clearly stated that laws are to be made only by the congress and the legislatures.

But there has been a growing and dangerous trend, aided and abetted by those who favor a vast, central government, for the executives and the judiciary to turn lawmakers--edict addicts.

The President has no right or authority to assume rights that are not given him by the Constitution or the Congress.

We note that it has become quite common for the various news media to refer to a decision of the United States Supreme Court as the "law of the land," and naturally it is hailed as such by the government bureau or department which hopes to benefit from it.

A Supreme Court decision, it should be remembered is the law of a case not the law of the land. Let's take a look at the Constitution. We quote from the second paragraph of Article VI:

"This constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof; and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land."

It has always been our proud boast that we are "a nation of laws, not men," which means that so far we have escaped rule by individuals backed by bayonets. Let's keep it that way.

FAA Says OK For TVOR

The alphabet crowd apparently still has influence in government agencies. Received at our desk as a news release from the Federal Aviation Agency is a gem. We hope you can interpret same. As far as we are concerned we don't get the message. It is too far out, way far out, even beyond the wild blue yonder.

"Pilots of VOR equipped aircraft approaching the county airport, Menominee, Mich., after March 31 will be assisted by a new navigational aid to be commissioned on or about that date by the Federal Aviation Agency.

"Called a TVOR, the new facility is an electronic installation similar to the VORTAC ... which are the integral part of the nation's Victor Airways Systems. The TVOR, however, is primarily designed as an approach facility and does not contain the TACAN feature of the VORTAC ..."

This release, the FAA would tell you, is a public service and naturally the guy that wrote it is on a government payroll.

Senator Byrd--THE Senator Byrd--said last week that he favored paring some of the expenditures in the hopes of achieving a balanced budget. Now if you were going to do the job where do you think would be a good place to begin?

Christmas Seals Totals Are Listed For The Area

A final tabulation of returns to the Christmas Seal Campaign of the Will County Tuberculosis Association shows a total of $36,808.97 as compared to $38,108.13 for last year according to John H. French, Seal campaign chairman. The totals by townships are as follows: Joliet, $19,914.81; Lockport, $4,282.23; Plainfield, $1,533.00; Wilmington, $1,110.93; Peotone, $738.95; Crete, $1,682.89; Frankfort, $1,243.39; Reed, $317.82; Custer, $82.00; New Lenox, $1,322.55; Manhattan, $371.51; Monee, $663.80; Jackson, $393.50; Florence, $82.30; Green Garden, $157.00; Washington, $554.33; Wilton, $105.00; Wheatland, $217.50; Will, $105.83; Wesley, $181.00; Channahon, $224.28; Troy, $472.67; Homer, $499.50; DuPage, $552.18.

"These funds are used in the association's program of case-finding, research, rehabilitation and health education," said Mr. French. "Each year more than 10,000 people still die of tuberculosis. While this figure is less than in the past, many thousands fall ill with the disease -- about 55,000 a year. Many of these may not know they have the disease and may not be getting treatment. But they may be infecting others."

"A program emphasizing the importance of other respiratory diseases including emphysema, chronic bronchitis, asthma, hay-fever, pneumonia and shortness of breath is being planned," he continued. "Many of these diseases are confused with or are related to tuberculosis. Program extension to include study of them is logical and necessary. Respiratory diseases cause 10 per cent of all deaths in the United States, and are one of the leading causes of days lost from work and from school."

"We wish to express a deep thanks to all who contributed to the campaign and pledge to continue and extend the program as much as is possible during the coming year," Mr. French concluded.

On Second Thought

By GLENN F. LOGAN

Just what this week is we are unable to report. But it must be something--Pumpernickel Week, Wig Week, Holland Gin Week or something. As a matter of fact there aren't enough weeks in a year to serve the press agents for different products and causes and so each one has to carry not just double but ten-fold or more in order to get them all in.

Just recently, for example, Poison Prevention Week, was observed and the remarkable thing about it was that not a single case of accidental poisoning was reported in the area during that period.

It is often said that what is one man's meat is another man's meat or vice versa so you can see it could be difficult to draw a line, even in Poison Prevention Week.

The principal idea of the week appears to have been an effort to have the small fry live less dangerously by putting all medicines, acids, alkalies, booze and other and sundry lethal poisons and powders out of their reach or securely locked away in a time vault that would defy even the efforts of persistent young cracksmen.

The same protective measures should suffice for pets too.

That leaves adults to look after themselves but anyone who takes note of the intake of the adult population over the years must come to the conclusion that it takes a heap of poisoning to kill off a grown-up.

Granted there are drugs and chemicals that will do the job in a hurry. But leaving such things out of it, it is amazing what the human system can withstand.

Anyone seeking proof of such an assertion needs only to consider the millions who survived the noble experiment--as national prohibition was sometimes called, among other things.

People certainly consumed a lot of stuff then that is not included on lists of foods and beverages recommended for those who would have strong, healthy bodies. That they are still with us--the people that is, demonstrates what a hardy lot we are.

Granted that there may be some pretty horrible concoctions bottled or tinned and sold today under the collection of what are optimistically referred to as the "Pure Food Laws," but one really lived dangerously when imbibing the various beverages of the prohibition era.

One wonders if creosote is still being used and it was used then to impart that smoky taste to the Scotch whiskey that came from some hideaway mixing plant but was guaranteed to be right off the boat by the bootlegger. Certainly the bottles, labels and stamps looked genuine. It was too bad the contents failed to live up to the packaging.

There has always been a standing warning against fusel oil--drink liquor from which the fusel oil has not been removed was the popular belief, and you were a dead duck. Your correspondent has not taken this up with any chemist or toxicologist so cannot say for certain that fusel oil will kill you. But there are people trotting around today in apparent good health who must have consumed quarts of it in their day.

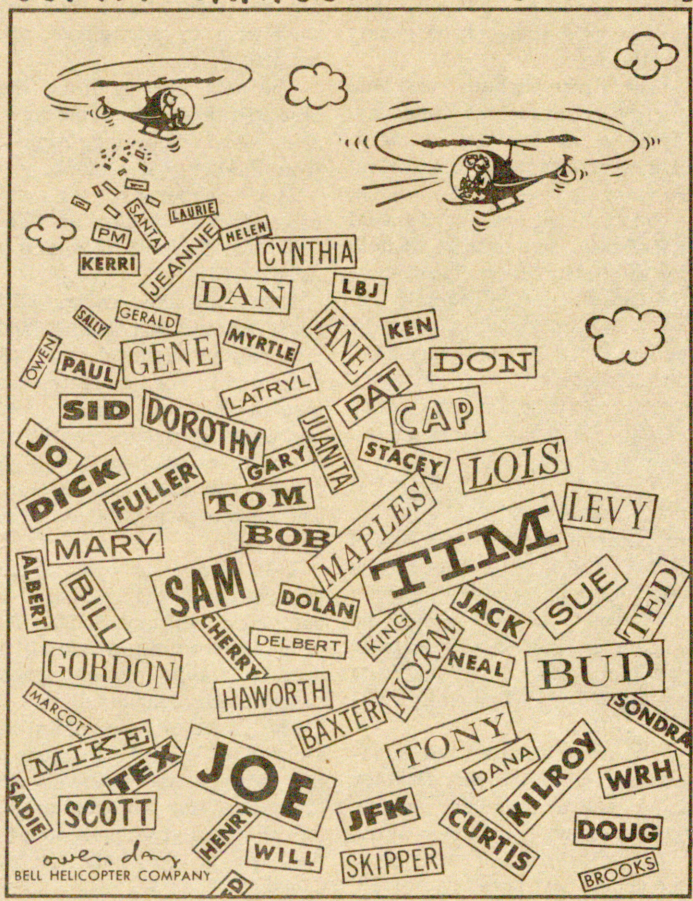

Methyl, to call wood alcohol by its maiden name, is ranked as a poison and labels warn that using this stuff as beverage will bring on blindness. Canned heat is made of wood alcohol.

Now it is quite probable that there have been a lot of people who have gone blind from using wood alcohol as a tipple. They just don't make up those poison labels out of thin air. But your correspondent has known a number of characters classified in police circles as "canned heaters" who still see very well. It is true that most of these people are now classified as "winos," but for many years they drank wood alcohol. At the beginning they would purchase it by the pint or quart. When druggists discovered that the buyers were drinking the stuff they shut them off--not wishing to be responsible for their blindness or possible deaths.

That was when the jungle boys and skid row denizens turned to canned heat. They could buy canned heat in the dime stores. They could buy bayrum anplace cosmetics were sold but bayrum and most of the shaving lotions were a bit too expensive. If one could buy those or the alky-base hair tonics, or the beef-iron-and-wine toner-uppers and appetite builders he could afford to buy that it is the opinion of their association that there is a close association between certain types of carcinoma and cigarette smoking. The statement also announced that their society would begin indoctrination activity in the elementary and high schools of the state.

This column knows of no other state medical group that has gone this far.

The cigarette manufacturers have been receiving bad publicity in increasing measure, from a greater number of sources.

Large sums of money are now being spent on a solution to this problem, by both the national government and the tobacco people.

Sometimes we forget that the tax revenue to both the national government and state governments, on cigarette sales is very large. The tobacco farmers as well as the retail and wholesale distributors also have a big stake in the final outcome of this scientific hassle.

Tobacco raising has long been under very tight allocation as to acreage that is permitted to raise tobacco. This right to grow tobacco attaches to the particular acreage and transferred with title to the particular plot of ground. Such tobacco raising right, considerably enhances the value of the particular farm.

It is seen that the government itself and other quasi-public bodies, must move slowly in situations such as this. A mistake could have wide economic effects. Many institutions and most Mutual Funds have had a policy against investing in tobacco stocks, due to investment judgment and also to the fact that some of their associates may be strongly anti-cigarette.

BUSINESS FORECASTS

The stock market and a number of leading investments services all agree that the business picture is very good and some state flatly that they fear an inflationary spiral rather than a business decline.

Fortune's column, Business Roundup, for April, states, "By last month almost all, including the Administration, agreed there would be no recession in 1963, and perhaps none in 1964. The emergent question is: for how many years, not months, can economic growth be sustained?"

"The decisive factor in this change in outlook has been rethe various types of the cheaper moonshine whiskey, and there is no telling what might have been in that stuff--but what was in it apparently didn't make too much difference.

Possibly if someone had forced one of those prohibition guzzlers to down a bowl of mush and milk it would have killed him. Which brings one back to the old saw about what is one man's meat is another man's poison.

newed rise in investment -- in inventories, housing, and capital goods."

The column states that for some months business had indicated a need for inventory increases and is now doing just that. Housing is expected to show a ten per cent increase in 1963 with outlays up $1 billion this quarter and up $2 billion by the year end.

The industrial capital goods outlays are considerably above many plans. The article states: "As in most past years, the actual rise in outlays will be sharper than the surveys indicate, as corporations fill out and firm up their initial plans."

"Advance plans for industrial plants so far in 1963, are four times those of a year ago, according to Engineering News Record, and a surge has begun in capital appropriations as reported by the National Industrial Conference Board."

They note that recent surveys by trade groups of railroads, electric utilities, and chemical and petroleum companies also suggest strong spending to come.

Hints For Homeowners

BY: JAMES FIZZELL, ASSOC. FARM ADVISER

Spring is the busiest time of the gardening year; but after a long cold winter it is certainly most welcome even though it brings with it a long list of yard chores.

In spring, most of us think first of our lawns. Some careful attention now will avoid some problems later in the season when you will probably be less enthusiastic about gardening.

As soon as the soil is dry enough to work, rake out the thatch which accumulated during last season. Then mow the grass quite short to uncover the new tender grass blades. A verti-cut mower, if one is available to you, will do both jobs nicely.

Apply a complete lawn fertilizer such as 10-6-4 at the rate of twenty pounds per 1000 sq. ft. of lawn. (Use higher or lower analysis fertilizers at a rate to apply 2 pounds of actual nitrogen per 1000 sq. ft.) Then roll the lawn with a light roller.

Spray fruit trees and lilacs with dormant oil spray to control scales.

Spray elms with methoxychlor to protect them from Dutch elm disease; spray maples with malathion to prevent the black and red galls that appear on the leaves in summer.

Prune late blooming shrubs and trees, but don't prune any spring flowering materials or you will remove already formed flower buds.

Set out pansies as soon as the soil is workable. These friendly little flowers will bloom continuously if you keep the old flowers picked.

Dormant roses planted carefully now will produce a large number of roses this year. Begin cautiously removing mulches from perennial and shrub beds.

Schools Swamp INU With Requests For Teachers

Normal, Ill. -- The biggest push in history now is underway at Illinois State Normal university to secure teachers for positions starting in September.

The placement office here has had 24,038 requests for ISNU graduates as teachers in the first few months of the year as compared with 23,096 openings listed in the last 12-month placement season. Jobs all over the world are being listed as well as from all states and all parts of Illinois, "including some places we've never heard of," an office assistant says.

Administrators have been in the office in person for interviews the past week from these Illinois towns: Atlanta, Cary, Clinton, Colfax, Danville, Flossmoor, Harvey, Herscher, Hoopston, Mendota, Mokena, Park Forest, and Waukegan. They also have come from Gary, Ind., Cleveland Heights, Ohio, and Jefferson County, Colorado.

Already scheduled in the next three weeks are interviews on campus with school administrators from these places:

April 2, Woodstock; April 3, University City, Mo.; April 4, New Hyde Park, N.Y.; April 11, Crystal Lake; April 19, Park Forest; April 22, Peoria; April 23, Kankakee; April 25, Deerfield.

Requests for teachers from distant points being received in large numbers include: 65, Air Force Dependents Schools (around the world); 62, Birmingham, Mich.; 45, Fairbanks, Alaska; 305 Annapolis, Md.; 440 Pittsburgh, Pa. Also listed recently were 5 openings for teachers in Honolulu and 17 in the College of Guam at Guam.

What is bringing this unprecedented demand for teachers to ISNU? Rapidly mounting school enrollments everywhere, is one administrator's explanation, who says it is much cheaper for his school board to send him out hunting good teachers than it is to have many candidates apply that he has never interviewed. "It's a waste of time to show off our schools to poor applicants. We want to do the recruiting on our own--and get the best."

More Than 5,000 Attend Annual Scout Cavalcade

Jack Powell, general chairman of the Scout Cavalcade of 1963 held on March 23-24, Saturday and Sunday, at the Joliet Armory, announced that a record crowd of over 5000 persons witnessed 1000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers from 40 Packs and Troops and Posts in action, representing both Ironquios and Blackhawk Districts of the Rainbow Council.

David Leach and his wife, co-chairman of the booth judging committee, announced the top units that earned the "Presidents Award" of the 40 booths were: Mokena VFW - Pack 40, Troy P.T.O. - Pack 256, Chaney School PTA - Troop 14, Schull PTA - Troop 41, St. John the Baptist Catholic Church - Post 5, and Joliet VFW #361 - Ship 44. Assisting the Leachs on the judging committee were Morris Berlinski, and Ned Grabavoy.

In addition to the 40 action booths during the two (2) day show were special stage presentations including a 50 boy chorale ensemble, all Scouts; and Indian Dance selections by dance team members of All Saints Greek Orthodox Church, Troop 7; and Grace Methodist Church, Troop 18.

Nelson Fenn, ticket and prize chairman, along with Powell, was able to present the first and second grand prizes during the show. First grand prize for top ticket salesman was a bicycle won by Scout Glen Greiger, of St. Peter's Lutheran Church - Troop 3, Second grand prize, a train and power pack was won by Scout Robert Moses of Bethlehem Lutheran Church - Troop 248.

Explorer "service crews" under the leadership of physical arrangements by John Kella, included members of Joliet VFW #361 - Ship 41, Squadron 209 - Richards Street Methodist church and Ingalls Street Methodist Church - Post 232.

Other members of the Cavalcade committee included program chairman, Ed Vollmer; booth sponsor chairman, Caesar Piunti; and refreshment stand chairman, Ralph Thompson assisted by Bart Caponi.

Nancy Russell To Direct Will County TBA Affairs

The board of directors of the Will County Tuberculosis Association announces the appointment of Miss Nancy J. Russell as the new executive director of the Association. She replaces Mrs. Frances E. Moehl who retired.

Miss Russell is a graduate of St. Francis academy and the College of St. Francis where she earned her B.A. in sociology. She has done graduate work at Loyola university, Chicago, in bacteriology and microbiology. She took special courses in public health work at Princeton university, and at Southern Illinois university. In 1958 she received her master's degree in public health at the University of Michigan, on a W.P. Shahan Scholarship, on a W.P. Shahan Scholarship, on a W.P. Shahan Scholarship.

While a student at College of St. Francis, she was a program consultant with the Will County Tuberculosis Association for two years. During the past five years, she has served as health education consultant for the Northwestern Illinois tuberculosis health education project in multi-county area for the Illinois Tuberculosis Association.

She holds memberships in the National Conference of Tuberculosis Workers, Illinois Conference of Tuberculosis Workers, Illinois Public Health Association and is a member of the executive board of the Illinois Society of Public Health Educators.

Miss Russell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August J. Russell, 1005 Barthelme Street, Joliet, with whom she makes her home. Mr. Russell recently retired from the Public Service Company after 39 years of service.

Mr. Angland advises that due to the peculiarities of the stock exchange firm activities, the purchase of an office is very seldom made public knowledge until the actual transfer of ownership which may occur a few days prior to formal transfer.

Mr. Angland states that he does not expect this will affect him greatly as he has been calling his clients to advise of the new firm.

Other than New York, Mitchell, Hutchins & Co., had only two branches - Memphis and Chicago Heights - whereas with Chicago Heights, Straus, Blosser & McDowell will have eighteen branch offices. They have been in the investment business since 1882.

Step Up, Folks! Meet The Famous Arum Family

ROBERTS MANN
Conservation Editor
Forest Preserve

Two of our best-known spring wildflowers are the Skunk Cabbage and the Jack-in-the-Pulpit. They are members of the Arum family and have a curious structure characteristic of this interesting family. Instead of petals, there is a single enclosing sheath with a canopy-like top, called a "spathe". This encloses and protects a fleshy club-shaped spike called a "spadix". The spadix appears fuzzy because it is crowded with tiny flowers that have no petals and no sepals.

The Arum family includes more than 1000 species -- most of them tropical; most of them having large coarsely-veined leaves and large fleshy rootstocks; most of them found in swamps, ponds, and moist habitats. Many have a bad smell, or a biting taste, or both. A cruel prank sometimes played on a child in the woods is to offer him a bite of Indian Turnip, another name for the Jack-in-the-Pulpit. The white starchy underground root has a pleasant taste, at first, but in a few moments his mouth and tongue begin to smart, and this burning sensation becomes an agonizing pain which lasts for many hours.

The leaves, roots and the small bullet-like seeds of the skunk cabbage produce a similar burning, tho not so severe. The Indians, however, used the roots of these plants extensively for food or medicines, and also the tuberous roots of some other wild arums; the Sweet Flag -- a shore plant which furnishes a noted aromatic drug, the Water Arum or Wild Calla, and the Golden Club. Continued boiling, heating, or thoro drying destroys the toxic effect. The Indians baked the roots in pit ovens for three days and stored them for winter food.

The Arum family includes a familiar garden flower, the Calla Lily, native to Africa; and also the Elephant Ear with its enormous shield-shaped leaves, which comes from the East Indies. The large starchy roots of the Taro, a close relative of the latter, are an important food in Hawaii and the Pacific Islands. Another arum, a native of tropical America but often grown in greenhouses, is the Ceriman, or MONSTERA: a climbing evergreen vine which grows by aerial roots, has a peculiar edible fruit, and has huge deeply-cut leaves perforated by numerous holes. The

Here's Chance To Study Fancy Egg Decorations

One of Chicago's most unusual Easter season displays, which features empty egg shells converted into dozens of realistic impersonations of fabled figures, like Methuselah, the ageless marvel of Old Testament days, and Confucius, the ancient sage of the Orient; and more recent celebrities like the Merry Widow and Our Gal Sal of stage fame, is now on public view at the Museum of Science and Industry.

Providing an unusual opportunity for amateur decorators to get some novel ideas for their own Easter table adornments, the display will continue thru Easter Sunday. Admission to the Museum and the exhibits is free.

This timely exhibit represents the handwork of Mrs. Hazel Tilley, 5528 Hyde Park Blvd., who has had similarly novel displays at the Museum during the past two Easter seasons.

In producing her creations, which include little three-dimension dioramas and statuary beside pseudo-human figures, Mrs. Tilley uses crates of eggs. Taking them in their original uncooked state, she cracks them slightly with a knife, breaks off sections of the shells, drains the insides, and then decorates or dresses them with such odds and ends as paper clips, old jewelry, pipe cleaners, and pieces of silk and lace. Each egg is given an individual holiday character.

In addition to their exterior trimmings, Mrs. Tilley cuts windows into many of them, paints their interiors, and then inserts tiny figurines to produce enticing peep shows.

Sanitary District Gets Low Rate On Warrants

Col. Frank W. Chesrow, president of The Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago, announced that bids have been opened for the purchase of $17,495,000 of 1963 tax anticipation warrants. The successful bidder was Halsey Stuart & Company representing a syndicate of other investment houses.

The interest rate will be 1.90%. John F. Mannion, treasurer of the Sanitary District and a vice president of the Continental Illinois National Bank, said, "This figure represents one of the lowest interest rates ever obtained in the recent history of The Sanitary District."

Speaking for the board of trustees, Col. Chesrow said, "This is a reflection of the standing of The Sanitary District insofar as financial institutions are concerned. It also reflects the fact that The Sanitary District has a Class AA rating in Standard & Poor, the nationally known financial rating service. Only seven of the nation's forty-two cities with populations of more than 500,000 persons possess such a rating."

MORE MOUTHS TO FEED!

Families on-the-grow make careful budgeting a "must" to provide for the future as well as the present.

Additions to the family mean not only "more mouths to feed," but increased responsibility for future needs... such as education. This calls for the wise management of money to provide a margin for regular saving...but the results are most rewarding!
